Company	Luminant Energy Company LLC.
Product Specifications	Verified Emission Reductions sold by Luminant Energy Company LLC are sourced from Wind Farm projects located in Texas. This is a greenhouse gas (GHG) emission reduction product. It represents the reduction of a specific quantity of GHGs. By purchasing this product, you alone have the right to all associated claims about the environmental benefits it embodies. This product is to be regarded as a real environmental commodity, not a donation or investment in a future project. The GHG emission reductions you purchased are sourced from verified projects. Your purchase of this product stimulates market demand for emission reduction projects, leading to more projects that can help mitigate the effect of climate change.
